The Performers

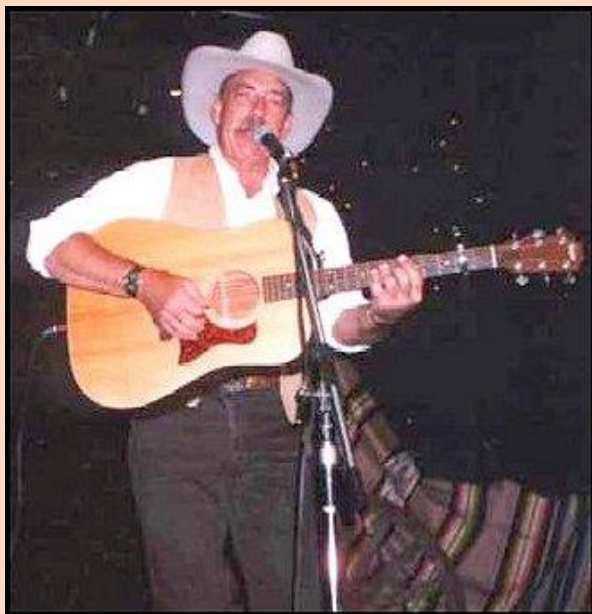

This year, host Bob Dougherty has corralled an amazing lineup of new and returning talent ready to help celebrate our Fifth Annual bolt out of this particular chute. Check back, because we may also have a surprise or two under our hat -- and we wouldn't want you to miss any of it!

Wallace McRae is a rancher, a poet, and an entertainer... in that order. His claim to the first title is bolstered by his 3rd-generation status operating a Montana ranch, the Rocker Six Cattle Co. His claims to the others are documented in 30 years of producing poetry, with a list of awards and credits longer than both his arms.

The Lone Star Chorale has a repertoire that covers everything from originals and traditional cowboy songs to western swing and contemporary songs by some of today's finest western songwriters. Strong lead vocals, plenty of three-part harmony and expert instrumentation are the solid foundation of this Texas group, featuring Jill Jones, Lynn Daniel, and Doug Floyd.

Serenata Mexicana is a group that bridges the historical and musical gap between the American Cowboy and the Mexican Vaquero, cultural ancestor of the western cowboy tradition. Christina Ortega and John Cazares together explore and share the musical roots of "Mexico lindo y querido" (beautiful, beloved Mexico) in performances that have been well received at numerous festivals and Cowboy Poetry Gatherings throughout the Southwest.

A "fixture" on the Morrison scene since day one, Bill Barwick continues to represent our own Colorado cowboy tradition. Bill is usually in rare form, with a unique blend of mellow music, humor, and stories that never fail to win over his audiences.

Bob Bird hails from New Mexico, where he started writing his own crazy brand of cowboy poetry several years ago. He first visited us in 1998, and we're still laughin'!
